

SUPPLIER CODE OF CONDUCT

11 SEP 2025 | V3.0 | © 2025 Act for Health, Inc

MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

Thank you for doing business with us. For over 30 years, Professional Case Management (PCM) has been providing quality health care to clients in the comfort of their homes. Over time we have expanded into multiple divisions, offering a variety of services to former nuclear weapons and uranium workers as a part of the Energy Employees Occupational Illness Compensation Program Act (EEOICPA).

In 2008 we started EmVenio, our clinical research division, leading the way in decentralized trials and mobile research by enhancing patient centricity and successfully accelerating trial completion. Through our unique partnership with Sponsors and CROs, EmVenio is changing the landscape of the clinical research industry.

We are dedicated to managing our business honestly and ethically with the knowledge that how we conduct ourselves day-to-day is essential to fulfilling our commitment to our mission and core values. In order to live up to this commitment, we rely on everyone associated with PCM and EmVenio, including our vendors, suppliers, and independent contractors, to adhere to certain principles. This Code of Conduct serves as a guide for those expectations, so please take time to read and understand the quality standards we follow. If you have questions about anything outlined in the following pages, please send any questions to compliance@procasemanagement.com. We look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

OVERVIEW

EmVenio, a subsidiary of Act for Health, Inc., d/b/a Professional Case Management (“EmVenio”, and together with Professional Case Management, the “Company”) is committed to conducting business ethically and legally across all its global operations and expects its business partners to share this commitment. This Supplier Code of Conduct (“Code”) sets out Professional Case Management’s (“PCM”) and, thus EmVenio’s, expectations for how its suppliers conduct business in performing services to or on behalf of the Company. All vendors, suppliers, consulting firms, staffing agencies, agency temps, subcontractors, agents, independent contractors, and other third parties engaged in providing products or services to EmVenio (collectively, “Suppliers”) are expected to act in accordance with this Code, including aligning guidelines, policies, and practices, and communicating and enforcing this Code throughout their organizations, including to subcontractors. Nothing in this Code is intended to replace, supersede, or conflict with any applicable legal or regulatory requirement, or any contractual obligation that any Supplier may have with EmVenio. To the extent there may be a conflict between this Code and a Supplier’s contract with EmVenio, the terms of Supplier’s contract will prevail with respect to such conflict.

This Code may be changed, altered, or modified by the Company from time to time in its sole but reasonable discretion. All Suppliers should read this Code at least annually and agree to comply with the requirements.

OUR COMPANY VALUES

With a breadth of services offered across numerous divisions, EmVenio works passionately to instill strength and new hope in the lives of deserving individuals. We're one diverse, highly collaborative team. And in everything we do, we share a strong set of core values.

We Work As A Team

At EmVenio, we truly enjoy the people we work with, whether they are our team members, clients, or their families. We have a diverse group of people all over the world, and we each bring different strengths and talents. By working enthusiastically toward the same goal and believing in our company's mission, we collectively expand our knowledge, share ideas, and find the best ways to achieve success—not only for those we serve, but for ourselves.

We Do The Right Thing

At EmVenio, we focus on the human impact of our work. This shows through the personal, genuine connections we make with our clients and their families. We understand the importance of empathy and compassion, and that quality care takes patience. And through our unwavering integrity, we bolster confidence and trust in the lives we touch.

We Figure It Out

The healthcare industry is constantly changing and presenting new challenges, big and small. Our experience and foresight allow us to adapt to these challenges in stride, always thinking before doing. Even if the challenge seems unsolvable, we never give up when it really matters.

We Pursue Growth

From humble beginnings in Denver, Colorado, PCM has served more nuclear weapons and uranium workers across the country than any other homecare provider, and our innovative ideas continue to progress the healthcare industry forward. Across all Company divisions we're constantly elevating our standard of care. By daring to lead, we inspire others to follow. And that goes for our team members as well. We encourage and offer ongoing opportunities for professional growth.

We Take Ownership

We believe courage is the cornerstone of personal and professional success. By recognizing our achievements—and our potential—we can inspire each other to grow stronger, smarter, and more driven in our work. At EmVenio, this sense of responsibility is one of the most powerful tools our teams have, and we believe that investing in ourselves leads to a strong foundation—not only on an individual basis, but for our company as a whole.
